For the dressing:

Combine the olive oil, vinegar, coriander and Cape Herb & Spice Liquid Seasonings Chilli in a bowl.

Season well with Cape Herb & Spice Salt and Pepper.

Mix well and set aside for later.

For the nachos:

Season the corn with olive oil and salt.

Braai the corn quickly if you have a gas braai.

If not - steam the corn and then hold it over a gas burner to get some nice charred spots all over.

Alternatively - air fry the corn at 200°C until lightly charred and cooked through.

Slice the corn off the cobs.

While the corn is cooking, preheat the oven to 200°C.

In a large bowl combine the corn, tomato, onion and chicken.

Drizzle over the dressing and toss to coat well.

Layer the chicken mixture with the tortilla chips and cheese on a large baking tray, making sure you finish off with some cheese.

Bake for 7-10 minutes until the cheese has melted and the tortilla chips are lightly browned.

Scatter nachos with fresh coriander and serve with plenty of lime wedges on the side.
